In addition, during the first few months they worked on desk research on current policies for the reuse of abandoned areas in each country. They also made a compilation of good practices in the countries of the partner organizations on sustainable and environmentally friendly urban actions. As a final culmination, they obtained the research report that will be published on the platform

The framework vision plan for the design of urban regeneration was also developed, explaining the context and the reasons for the importance of the regeneration project. In November the second TPM was held in Brussels, where the project was reviewed. We are currently working on the development of 3 Educational Units.
